August: Customer and User Experience

In the ecommerce world, the end of summer marks the start of holiday planning. Before you dive in, make sure to give your business ample time to evaluate your site.

Consumers demand a personalized online experience. How does your site match up to their expectations? Does your ecommerce store have:

- ▲ Easy product set-up functionality
- ▲ Automated abandoned cart notifications
- ▲ Industry-leading uptime
- ▲ Multi-recipient functionality
- ▲ Automated web app backups (e.g. Rewind)
- ▲ Website page builder
- ▲ Zero transaction fees

If not, now may be the time to update your experience.

Other key areas to measure are:

- ▲ Shipping and fulfillment options
- ▲ Third-party integrations
- ▲ Promotion functionality
- ▲ Marketplace integrations
- ▲ Tech support
- ▲ Analytics

When evaluating your current website, you may discover large cost-saving opportunities — leaving more room for your marketing budget. Imagine the holiday marketing campaigns you could execute.

Bring your brand to life with leading website design.

DIY WITH PAGE BUILDER.

BigCommerce Page Builder makes it easy to create a leading website design — and it doesn't require a graphic designer to do the work. Simply drag-and-drop different elements onto your page to create your desired experience.

CONSIDER A HEADLESS APPROACH.

Content has the power to connect consumers with a brand — and holiday shoppers are eager for a personalized experience. BigCommerce offers a headless commerce solution that integrates with industry leading content management systems, such as WordPress, and digital experience platforms like Bloomreach. Our best-in-class solution enables businesses to focus on tailoring front-end experiences — no coding required.

PARTNER WITH AN AGENCY.

Whether you have a small or large budget, hiring an agency is a great choice if you are looking for added support. Leave it to design and user experience experts to create a personalized, captivating ecommerce experience. Find more recommended agencies in the Partner Directory.

“Often we’ll have one customer — usually ordering for a corporate gifting program — who wants to send gifts to a thousand different recipients. Instead of placing a thousand unique orders, it’s a better customer experience if we can simply route different items to individual addresses.”

- Lauren Cevallos, Ecommerce and Mail Order Manager, Lammes Candies

Prepare Your Merchandising Strategy

To begin, you need to determine:

- ▲ What products will you sell during the holidays?
- ▲ How will you display these products on your site?
- ▲ Will you have a holiday-specific category in your navigation?

A GIFT TO YOUR CUSTOMERS: ADVANCED SEARCH AND PERSONALIZATION.

Make your customers' search for the perfect gift easier. Equip your online store with partner solutions like Nosto and Segmentify for product recommendations and Klevu for advanced search functionality. These solutions will simplify the customer journey and improve the overall experience.

Checkout Optimization

Here are three tactics to help your customers convert:

- ▲ Consolidate your checkout to one page
- ▲ Offer more payment options such as PayPal/Venmo, American Express
- ▲ Enable automated cart abandonment notifications

TAKE IT A STEP FURTHER WITH MULTI-RECIPIENT CAPABILITIES.

Instead of having your customers place a plethora of orders for holiday gifts, enable multi-recipient functionality to remove unnecessary stress during the busy holiday season.

September: Selling, Shipping and Fulfillment

To execute on a great customer experience strategy, you'll need a clear plan on where to sell your products and how to ship and fulfill orders.

Where to Sell

Your ecommerce store isn't the only place to spread holiday cheer. Here are some other sales channels to consider:

Online Marketplaces

Social Commerce

Brick-and-Mortar

Cross-Border

Just as with your own ecommerce site, you'll want to ensure the experience is as smooth as possible. Here are a few things to keep in mind to expand your reach and acquire new customers:

- ▲ Write compelling product titles and clear descriptions
- ▲ Feature high-quality product imagery to entice new customers
- ▲ Integrate the channels you sell on with your ecommerce platform
- ▲ Let your customers know where they can find your products on your ecommerce store
- ▲ Encourage customers to opt into your email newsletter or follow you on social media

BRING JOY TO THE WORLD WITH CROSS-BORDER SELLING

Take your products on a one-way ticket around the world. While many initiatives translate to a global strategy, you may want to consider specific ecommerce features.

Enabling multi-currency functionality allows customers to transact in their local currency. This improves customer satisfaction, increases conversion rates, and gives brands complete control of pricing. The BigCommerce payments API offers integrations with leading global payment providers, like Adyen and PayPal.

“We launched multi-currency in early summer 2019, which drove about an 80% increase in conversions over just three months.”

Justin Wang, Co-Founder and CEO of LARQ

LARQ

Multi-store capabilities make it possible to achieve optimal customer segmentation and meet the needs of multi-language, multi-currency, multi-brand and more. If you have many SKUs, you may consider implementing a product information management system (PIM) like Jasper, Akeneo, or Salsify.

Lastly, you'll need to account for key differences in your audience segments. Some will be more clear, like language and customer demographics, while others will require a bit more research. Partnering with a global agency can help your brand succeed across ecommerce, digital marketing, branding and technology integrations.

“Our platform migration was pretty challenging and a complex project with a number of moving parts. We went live with seven sites, four currencies, and three different languages in six months. The BigCommerce team is keeping up with all the trends in ecommerce so as we evolve, they are evolving with us, and supporting our growth.”

- Mark Hopkins, Chief Information Officer at Skullcandy

Shipping

Unfortunately, we don't all have a big red sleigh to deliver products to homes around the world in one night. But, there are many shipping and fulfillment solutions that can help.

During the holiday season, you'll likely experience an increase in orders. To prepare for the heightened traffic, you'll need to determine how you will handle shipping. There are three primary options:

- ▲ Handle shipping and fulfillment in-house
- ▲ Outsource shipping and fulfillment with a third-party logistics provider (3PL)
- ▲ Outsource shipping and fulfillment with a dropshipper

Whichever path you follow, you'll want to automate your shipping process. Shipping software gives you access to one dashboard where you can compare rates, print labels, manage orders, print shipping labels in bulk, and reconcile shipping bills. You can also set shipping rules to automatically select the cheapest rate, fastest method, etc. To understand how sales tax affects your shipping cost, integrate a tax and accounting software like Avalara, Vertex, or Quickbooks to help determine where and when you need to charge tax.

With the right shipping strategy in place, you'll be able to offer your shoppers a better shipping experience, improving conversion and brand loyalty. BigCommerce offers partnerships and integrations to help accomplish this, such as ShipBob, Shipstation, ShipperHQ, and FedEx — and global solutions like EasyShip, Flavorcloud, or Global-e.

Fulfillment

MANAGE YOUR INVENTORY.

Get ready to stock up — appropriately. Inventory management can make or break your success amidst the holiday rush. To prepare, study sales data from previous holiday seasons to create detailed demand forecasts.

Now more than ever, the holidays can present unpredictable challenges. Maybe your products are featured on a national news broadcast or organically endorsed by a celebrity. Real-time inventory tracking will help you navigate supply and demand challenges. Depending on your business needs, you may also consider integrating an order management system like Brightpearl.

“The automation cut down the labor by about 8x. It’s a great win for productivity. Now people can come in, get their job done and get out of here to spend time with their families.”

- Ben Johnson, VP Operations at Casey’s Distributing, on their integration with Brightpearl.

DELIVER AN INCREDIBLE UNBOXING EXPERIENCE.

Think of every order as a gift. The unboxing experience is very important to both your customers and marketing strategy. Create an exceptional unboxing experience that inspires them to share on social media or with friends and family. You can work with partners like Arka and Noissue to create custom packaging materials. For more sustainable options, check out EcoEnclose.

STAY CONNECTED WITH YOUR STOREFRONT.

For brands selling both online and offline, a point-of-sale system (POS) integration is key. You will gain access to full visibility of inventory and can even leverage offline inventory to fulfill online orders. BigCommerce offers integrations with Vend, Square, Springboard Retail, Clover and more.

WIN BACK CUSTOMERS WITH RETURNS.

On average, shoppers return 15% to 30% of online purchases during the holiday season. In 2019, this amounted to roughly $41.6 billion in returns. As a result, returns continue to be a large area of concern for many e-tailers.

It's key to understand your options for product returns. Rather than viewing returns as a loss, use them as an opportunity to win back customers (and potentially acquire new ones who discovered you from a gift).

Make the return process as convenient as possible. You can work directly with your 3PL provider to create an automated process or use a returns solution, like Happy Returns, to simplify the process for customers — and earn their loyalty.

“People often treat the returns process as an afterthought, but it’s an equally important part of the customer’s overall experience with a brand.”

- Russell Klein, Chief Commercial Officer, BigCommerce

October: Marketing and Promotions

Connect with Customers

The season brings a unique merriment and nostalgia that encourages spirited fun, giving back, and meaningful time spent with family and friends. When marketing your products, focus on connecting your brand to the season.

There are several ways you can build an emotional connection with your customers:

Team up with a charitable organization to highlight your mission and values and give back.

Bring a storytelling approach to your marketing collateral.

Highlight user-generated content to celebrate your customers.

Give the Gift of Promotions

By tying your brand to the season, customers will feel more inclined to shop with you. Take it a step further with promotional strategies and they'll also feel more inclined to purchase, share with friends, and, ultimately, come back for more. Here are a few tactics you can implement:

- ▲ Upsell with gift cards at checkout
- ▲ Offer special seasonal services like free gift-wrapping and shipping
- ▲ Add urgency with limited-time offers by the hour or days

- ▲ Enable customers to give back by adding a PayPal Donate button to checkout
- ▲ Reward customers with exclusive discounts through a referral or loyalty program

Integrate Your Marketing Efforts

In order to bring your promotions to life, you'll need to share them through an integrated marketing campaign. This will enable your brand to connect your story to the season and cultivate engagement with your customers — across all channels. Just like a holiday cookie recipe, your campaign will consist of many sweet ingredients.

Your ecommerce store is your home, so begin by creating core messaging for your website. Craft content and copywriting that resonates and engages your audience and do your best to offer additional content resources, like holiday gift guides. Once you've locked down your website content strategy, spread the cheer onto additional marketing channels.

“Customers are conditioned to expect certain moments in the year where there are heavy promotional periods, like Black Friday and Cyber Monday. What we want to do as a brand is to elevate that promotional experience. Create real unique promotions that don’t cheapen the brand, but still offer a great option for the consumer.”

- Alex Kubo, VP Ecommerce and Digital Marketing, Burrow

SOCIAL MEDIA

Share holiday stories through the eyes of your customers using user-generated content. If you are looking to leverage influencers, ask them to create content focusing on a holiday memory. You can also engage your followers in real-time with Instagram or Facebook Live sessions. Remember, many consumers choose to communicate with brands via social media, so be sure to respond to all inquiries within 24–48 hours.

PAID ADVERTISING

Organic content is king, but paid advertising can boost your brand in a saturated market. A quick place to begin is Facebook or Instagram Ads, since you can simply boost organic content. Where you'll want to spend a little more time is search engine marketing and overall conversion rate optimization.

Organic SEO will help you rank on Google, but, similar to social media, a paid boost can garner thousands of more views. Google Ads is key to any paid strategy as it can help drive both website and in-store visits. If you have an omnichannel approach, investing in paid advertising can help drive traffic across channels, too.

The following partners can help with your conversion rate optimization:

- ▲ Logical Position (Google Ads PPC management, paid social)
- ▲ Google Shopping by Sales & Orders
- ▲ Facebook & Google Easy Ads by ROI Hunter
- ▲ Google Ads Keyword Genius

EMAIL

Remember how excited you were as a child to receive snail mail? Your emails should deliver the same excitement to your customers. Email marketing is a great opportunity to send personalized communication. With an email marketing tool like Omnisend, Klaviyo, or Mailchimp, you can combine beautiful email templates with dynamic discount codes, campaign targeting, and tracking and attribution.

Find creative ways to announce new products and promotions and increase your click-through and conversion rates.

SMS

When it comes to holiday, SMS provides a special opportunity to connect with your customers. Many brands leverage SMS marketing to execute pre-built sequences and conversations specific to cart abandonment, order and shipping confirmations, personalized rewards, limited-time promotions and more.

SEO

To enhance the performance of your content, focus on implementing SEO tactics:

- ▲ Make sure your ecommerce platform is equipped with industry-leading SEO tools
- ▲ Consistently assess your site's load times and overall performance with Google Analytics and Google Search Console
- ▲ Identify relevant keywords for holiday
- ▲ Create landing pages for Black Friday and Cyber Monday offers with custom URLs, compelling page titles and meta descriptions
- ▲ Coordinate SEO with other marketing efforts like paid search and social media

If you want to outsource this work, there are many agencies like Coalition Technologies that offer expertise across SEO, web design, pay-per-click (PPC), social media, SMS, and email strategies.

“Create holiday-specific deal pages. These pages can target terms for Black Friday and Cyber Monday deals for your niche. Some niches have more volume than others, but it still can be worth it for high intent traffic. Launch them early to get them to rank and add an email signup. You can then send additional emails on holiday sales.”

- Kevin Jones, Senior SEO & Content Marketing Manager, BigCommerce

November: Customer Service and Support

The holiday season is quickly approaching and, to be prepared for success, both your business and your customers need adequate support.

Support for Your Ecommerce Store

The holiday nightmare: a crashed website on Cyber Week. After months of hard work, your customers are disappointed and unable to make purchases. It's often overlooked, but support for your business is make or break for success.

When choosing an ecommerce platform, make sure it comes with:

24/7
Global Support

Premium Security Features

Industry-
Leading Uptime

BigCommerce comes with all of this and more. Our support team can help you with anything related to selling online and growing your business, like boosting conversion, improving your shopping experience, managing catalog transfers, and recommending solutions for taxes, payments, shipping and software integrations. - Sarah Hoffman, Online Sales Director at Precision Camera

Supporting Your Customers

You've got a dedicated support team behind your store. Now, you must take care of your customers. The holidays are undoubtedly a busy and sometimes stressful time. Be prepared to handle any questions and concerns, and make information readily available.

DEDICATED SUPPORT.

Even when something goes wrong, a positive customer support experience can lead to a loyal customer. You should have dedicated support for phone, email, and social media — and be sure to respond to all inquiries within 24–48 hours.

To enhance the customer experience further, consider adding:

- ▲ Chat support powered by solutions like Drift or iAdvize
- ▲ Contact information to your website and all order confirmations
- ▲ An FAQ page that offers quick and easy answers

ASK FOR FEEDBACK.

“How was your experience today?” This is a simple question that brings a lot of value to your business. Not only are you obtaining customer testimonials, but you will also learn a lot about how you can improve as a business.

Looking for product reviews? Incentivize your customers to leave a review with a special one-time discount or free shipping.

December: Reporting and Analytics

Once Cyber Week 2020 is in the books, the holidays still aren't quite over. Now, it's time to measure the performance of your promotions and campaigns.

Measuring Holiday Success

Numbers don't mean much until you translate them into insights. Measuring key performance indicators (KPIs) can help you understand your overall performance.

BigCommerce merchants benefit from Ecommerce Analytics and Insight reports, directly in the platform, that provide a deeper look at customer data all in one easy-to-view dashboard, at no extra cost. Google Analytics is another great tool to integrate to further optimize your website.

When it comes to KPIs, there are three buckets:
